Synopsis: Synopsis of Program: The Carrier Alert program is a service, offering older adults, individuals living by themselves, and those with special needs a lifeline to emergency, medical and other human services. Letter carriers place a label in a residents mailbox. The identification label tells a carrier to watch designated mailboxes daily for uncollected mail. If the mail carrier finds yesterday's mail still in the mailbox, he or she will take this as a warning that the resident may need help due to an accident or sudden illness. The carrier will notify his postal supervisor, who will in turn, notify the Walnut Sheriff's Station where you are registered. A deputy will try to contact the resident, to ascertain if there has been an emergency.
